Long list for Santa

When the young lady who waited so long for Santa to finish feeding his reindeer in Elk Point Allied Arts' production of "If it's Monday, it Must be Christmas" finally tracks down the jolly old elf, she hands over a very long list. Santa may want to send all his elves to Extravaganza if more orders like this come in!

Final touches underway for Friday's Extravaganza

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The big evening is just about here: Elk Point's Christmas Extravaganza goes Friday, and the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce and their energetic community volunteers are working at fever pitch to put the final touches in place.

This year's contest is already well underway, with a new format. Since early last week, participating businesses have been handing out shopping passports and stickers with a minimum $10 purchase, and the pile of filled passports dropped off in the big red drum at Elk Point Co-op is growing rapidly. The draw will be made Friday at 9:30 p.m. at the Extravaganza stage for prizes of $2,000, $500 and $200 Elk Point Bucks, a package of eight tickets for Elk Point Community Choir's 2011 dinner theatre and a $100 gift card from ARK Autowash.

The Photos with Santa venue at the Seniors Recreation Centre will kick off Friday's action at 3 p.m., for the first of two sessions, this one going until 5 p.m. and the second after the parade until 9 p.m., with pictures to colour and a make-and-take-home craft session for the youngsters also at this location.

With cooperation from the weatherman, an outdoor rink east of the Elk Point Visitor Information Eco Centre will be available for free skating from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. that evening.

The focus moves north one block at 4:30 p.m. when two new events get underway, an Activity Lane for the under-five crowd and a scavenger hunt for ages six to 12 will both be based in the area between TD Canada Trust and Elk Point Pharmacy, just off Main Street on 49 Avenue, these events wrapping up at 6:30 p.m. in preparation for the Winter Wonderland Parade. The parade will line up on Railway Ave. beginning at 6:15 p.m. and will head up Main Street at 7 p.m., following the same route as previous years.

Alberta takes the wheel on distracted driving

Comprehensive legislation bans several distractions while driving

By JANANI WHITFIELD
Review Contributor

He might have been a poster child for distracted driving in the past, but local MLA Ray Danyluk is turning over a new leaf, following the Alberta legislature's Nov. 17 passing of distracted driving legislation.

"I look at myself and I probably am the epitome of the abuser. It's just the way my life is," says Danyluk of his use of cell phones while driving. But he notes "we all have been distracted while driving. That's a given." Fortunately for Danyluk, the bill still allows the use of hands free devices on the road.

The Alberta government has touted Bill 16 as the most comprehensive distracted driving legislation in Canada, since it bans not only talking on cell phones and texting while driving, but also other activities, such as reading, writing, sketching, watching televisions or computers or anything else with a screen, or personal grooming. CB radios are banned if they're being used for recreational purposes, but GPS and MP3 players are allowed, so long as the GPS gives audio directions. However, it would be an offence under the legislation to program a GPS or an MP3 player while driving.

There will be a grace period to educate Albertans about the change, and police will start enforcement in mid-2011, said Danyluk. Those who are caught driving while distracted will receive a $172 fine, but no demerit points.

While he stood behind the legislation, Danyluk did have some reservations about how it would unfold. For one, he hopes the legislation does not inadvertently cause other types of accidents or more accidents, from people trying to hide their cell phone use or by pulling over spontaneously to answer a ringing phone.

"That's one of the most dangerous things that happen on our highways," he said of people stopping on highways.

Most of all, Danyluk stressed the role of education in preventing accidents. He also pointed to children as "the best educators of people," saying that kids can and will point out if a driver is engaging in an activity that

Wildrose Party constituency association gains momentum

TWO HILLS, AB: On November 8, 2010, the Lac La Biche - St. Paul - Two Hills Wildrose Party constituency association held its Annual General Meeting at the Seniors Club in St. Paul.

The Wildrose Party in this area has seen its membership more than quadruple over the last few months.

"I thank the previous Board for their skill and dedication and am very pleased with the talent and caliber of the new Board Directors in our area," said Shayne Saskiw. "They represent a wide cross-section of the constituency and I am sure that they will provide sound advice as we move forward towards election readiness."

Saskiw said he looks forward to continue meeting with constituents and making their views heard.

"The Wildrose believes in true grassroots democracy," said Saskiw, "and under the leadership of Danielle Smith, our party will listen to, and act upon, the wishes and concerns of all Albertans."

Brian Chomlak, the regional zone director for the Alberta Beef Producers, took over the role as President. "I am pleased to have Brian join the team and apply his vast knowledge on agriculture policy over the next year" Saskiw stated.

Shayne Saskiw is a lawyer, conservative activist, and Wildrose Party Candidate for the Lac La Biche - St. Paul - Two Hills provincial constituency. Shayne and his family all reside in the Two Hills area.

Shayne Saskiw can be contacted by phone at (780) 603-5400, by email at shayne@saskiw.ca, or via the website: www.saskiw.ca.

Extravaganza

F. G. Miller High School's 19th annual craft and trade show and book sale starts at 5 p.m. Friday, going to 10:30 that evening and open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

Following the parade, the Elk Point Visitor Information EcoCentre will be this year's depot for wagon rides, which will continue until 9:30 p.m.

Also following the parade, there will be live entertainment at the Extravaganza stage in the Servus Credit Union parking lot and face painting and play centre fun at Footprints. The Credit Union staff will be handing out free hot chocolate on behalf of the chamber and holding a hot dog sale from 7:30 to 9:30 in their lobby.

Extravaganza will once again conclude with a fabulous fireworks finale at 10 p.m., north of the A. G. Ross Arena.

Distracted driving

Barry Sallstrom, a regional traffic safety coordinator, noted one of the good things about the legislation is the fact it is comprehensive and addresses other distractions beyond cell phones. There are always going to be other distractions, such as dealing with young children in the vehicle, but this legislation addresses many of the common problems that can cause accidents, he said, noting that 20 to 30 per cent of collisions occur as a result of distracted driving.

He acknowledges there could be drivers who try to hide their cell phone use by holding the phone down on their laps to avoid getting caught, but says this people would be "clearly indicating their attitude of disrespect for other motorists and public safety."

"Do you have the will power to ignore that call, text or email until you can pull over and park safely?" he asks, sharing his final message of: "Give yourself a break - relax and just drive."

Do not read while driving

We hate to discourage anyone from reading the Elk Point Review at any time, and we know it's hard to wait to get home to read it, but please be aware: reading this paper while driving could be hazardous to your wallet. Reading, along with writing, watching television, texting, playing video games and putting on makeup, is listed in the activities the province has banned while driving.

In other words, as teachers used to say, 'Eyes front.' Pay attention to your driving, or pay a fat fine instead. Bonus: you'll be far safer looking where you're going.

Way Back When...

Drilling, Critters, GST confusion

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF NOV. 23 IN...

1985

Drivers had their ups and downs and council was awash in discussions due to the water supply line and water main installation, with an application made to Alberta Environment for further water diversion from Atimoswe Creek. The Energy Resources Conservation Board released their reasons for approval of the Dome Petroleum application for a $160 million commercial oil sands project in the Lindbergh area.

1990

Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department was in urgent need of more firefighters, especially some who worked in town during the day, and of funding for replacement of their aging rescue van. MP Deborah Grey came home to Heinsburg as her fall constituency tour came to an end, and was warmly welcomed with a potluck supper where she brought the latest news on the soon-to-be-implemented GST, noting "the government still doesn't know what they're going to do about it and it's supposed to be implemented in six weeks."

1995

Elk Point Minor Hockey coaches had their hands more than full when the CFCW Country Critters came to town, which included such shenanigans as blindfolding all players but the Critter and later trussing the furry mascot up like a Christmas turkey and tying him to the net. Brian Schnurer of the Fairgrounds and Livestock Division and Dave Cousins of the Arena Operating Committee became the first ever co-presidents of the Elk Point Agricultural Society.

2000

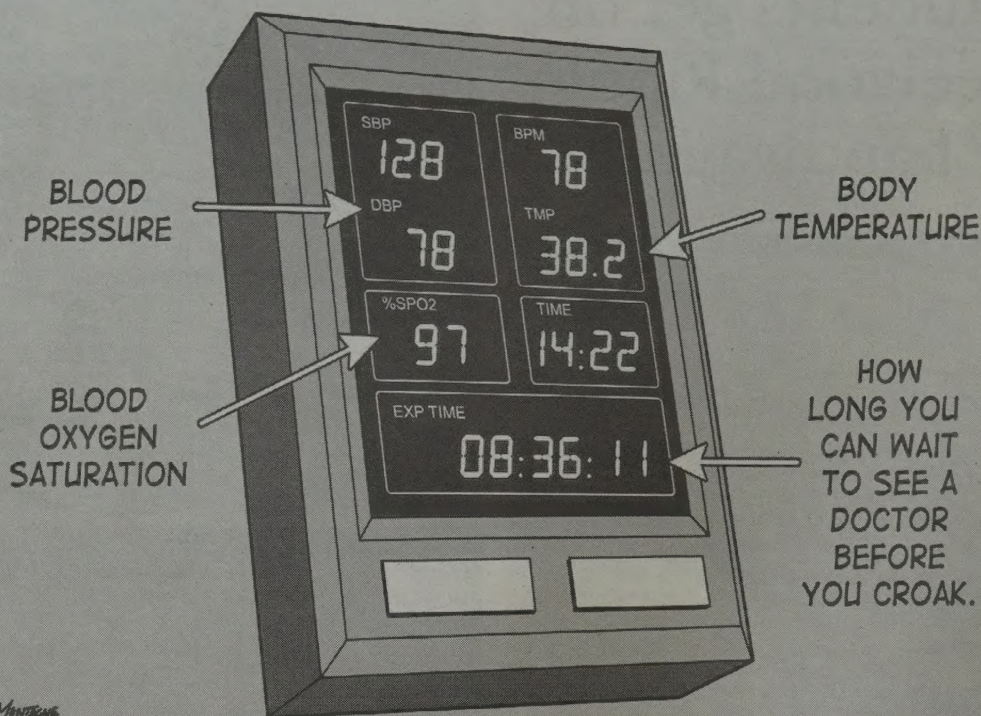

No objectors came forward to challenge a town decision to allow Anadarko Petroleum to drill a well within town limits. A week after five horses and a cow were shot in two separate areas northeast of Elk Point, RCMP and the owners of the livestock were still wondering who was responsible for the senseless crime.

2005

Elk Point 4-Hers weighed in for a new year, running their steers through the scale at K-Cow Ranch and attaching the tags identifying them as project animals. Approval of subdivision of a parcel of land for residential construction and the town's purchase of property for a corner upgrade in the industrial area were on town council's agenda.

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

GUEST COLUMN

I'm still here

The title from an anonymous poem, "I'm Still Here", refers to seniors. Becoming seniors and old age is something none of us will escape unless we expire prematurely. Alberta's population, like the rest of Canada's is aging. Today, there are about 403,000 seniors in Alberta but by 2031, when the last of the baby boomers reach 65 years of age, it is projected that there will be more than 923,000 seniors – meaning about one in five Albertans will be a senior.

Recognizing that Canadian and international statistics demonstrate that four to seven per cent of the senior population has experienced some form of elder abuse. This translates to, at the very least, 27,000 Albertans having experienced some form of elder abuse. As awareness increases through local, provincial and federal initiatives, and as our population ages, reporting of elder abuse has dramatically increased. We are learning that elder abuse cases are complex and distinct from other forms of violence. 38 per cent of abusers are adult children, while 26 per cent of abusers are spouses. Not all elder abuse is domestic. Other abusers include neighbours, paid caregivers, companions and staff. Men are nearly as likely that to be victims of some form of abuse as women. Not all cases are considered criminal nor do they all result in criminal action. Additionally, victims are unlikely to find support that considers their aging needs.

On Tuesday, November 16, 2010, the Government of Alberta released Addressing Elder Abuse in Alberta: A Strategy for Collective Action. The Strategy is intended to guide the actions of the Government of Alberta and its community partners on preventing and addressing elder abuse in Alberta. It is expected that the Strategy will contribute to a more focused and coordinated approach to preventing elder abuse and meeting the needs of victims.

The Strategy builds on the Government of Alberta's existing and ongoing efforts in preventing family violence and bullying, and on the policy directions set out in the Aging Population Policy Framework. Informed by research, stakeholder and cross-ministry consultation, the Strategy sets out a collective approach for preventing and responding to elder abuse in Alberta and outlines the vital roles that all partners share in supporting the safety, security and dignity of Alberta seniors. The Strategy and additional information is available on the Alberta Seniors and Community Supports website at <http://www.seniors.alberta.ca/services> resources/elderabuse/.

Elder abuse is any action or inaction that affects the health or well-being of an elderly person. It can take many different forms, including financial, physical, emotional and sexual abuse to medication abuse and neglect. The Addressing Elder Abuse in Alberta Strategy aims to prevent and address elder abuse, by taking a comprehensive approach. The Strategy is structured around four key goals.

Improved awareness – Educate Albertans so they are aware of elder abuse, how to prevent and identify it and where to go for help.

Skilled service providers – Ensure Alberta's providers and caregivers have the knowledge and skills needed to effectively serve and support seniors and to help prevent, identify and address elder abuse appropriately.

Coordinated community responses – Work with Alberta communities so they have the capacity to partner to provide coordinated supports that prevent and respond to elder abuse, including effective intervention resources.

Protective laws and policies – Ensure Albertans have access to legal tools and other mechanisms that help protect seniors from abuse and fraud, effectively address situations or elder abuse and uphold the rights of seniors.

So to all our local seniors, it is nice to learn that you have been recognized as "still being here" and the Alberta Government with the new continuing care strategy will provide Albertans with more support and more choice.

Atom Avalanche win 9-1 at AGR

Former Avs come home to play Sunday with Midget Canadiens teammates

Let's admit it, sometimes even I goof up, like last week when I wrote about Grandpa Ed Poulin and how he was at the arena all day, but totally forgot to mention Grandma Sandra Poulin who was also at the arena all day watching the grandkids, so I must apologize to her, and there's no excuse, because of course I did see her in the stands and knew she was there, she just didn't come visit me at my coach's corner in the lobby in between periods, and analyze the game like Grandpa Ed and I did. So this week to all our grandparents who support minor hockey, "We salute you."

Review Sports

Two of our teams, the Novice No.1 and Micro Novice, were off this weekend, catching up on some of the other pre-Christmas kind of things. The only game played in our town this past week was by our Atom Avalanche who hosted Pierceland on Sunday afternoon, improving their winning record with a 9 to 1 decision, and picking up another two points on the season. Garrett MacGillivray getting the call, suiting up between the pipes is this one; he was impressive in his first action. Alex Hunter with five goals, Brody "the Big O" Odgaard with two, Carson Ference and Angus McFarlane also scoring, Dustyn Pankiw getting a couple of helpers for the Avalanche.

Hitting the road on Sunday, the Novice No. 2 team traveled south to Vermilion to tame the Tigers. Now, the Tigers of course are always a little bit hungry, especially when you come calling into their territory, but our guys were up for the challenge, and after the first 20 minutes the game was tied at one, on a goal by Wolke Cueva, assisted by Sam Henderson. The second period was when the guys had the most trouble tangling with the Tigers. The Tigers wouldn't be caged and dominated the second and took the lead, but in the third the Avalanche once more came out flying and kept them off the score sheet. James Kozicki in net did an absolutely awesome job; he was peppered with shots and stood on his head. Our guys did the same at the other end of the rink, but unfortunately were unable to bury them and came up a little short in this one. The Novice No. 2 are off this coming weekend, but will be hosting an eight-team tournament in town the following weekend, mark it down, Dec. 4 and 5.

Also mark down this coming Sunday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. when our former Avalanche players bring along their St. Paul Midget Canadiens teammates for a game at the A. G. Ross Arena ice against Hughenden. Let's pack the place to the rafters and cheer on these guys, who edged out the previously undefeated Provost team in their own barn on Sunday.

Jared Vallee opened the scoring in the first period, with Riley Chantry, Brett "the Moose" Ockerman and Jason Jubinville, unassisted, making it 4-0 in the second before the host team got on the board. Provost came back the third, but a goal by Dino Meger off "Dan the Man" Garrett gave the Canadiens the necessary margin, with a fifth goal by Provost just after the final buzzer too late to count. Two assists by Brandon Gamache, one by Dakota Cross in this one, and Wyatt "Mad Dog" Dewan doing an awesome job in net. Dakota "Doc" Amyotte is still out with an ankle injury, the Canadiens also short one other player on the second of a two-game suspension after a battle in their previous 6-1 loss to Provost.

Our very own Mark "the Marksman" Letestu is having such a super year he has impressed many people in the hockey world and could possible play in the NHL All Star game with a little help from you. And now for the K.A.Campbell quote of the week." I feel sorry for Scotty. It must be tough dealing with twenty-four All-Stars." Last week's answer to: "I was impressed by his physical presence and his leadership qualities- also by his Porsche." - Eric Lindros on Mark Messier.

Bengals lose provincial final to Calgary Colts

By GREGORY YAPP
Review Contributor

Seth Henderson, head coach of the St. Paul Bengals football team is really proud of his team for their outstanding season this year, although the home team ended their season with a provincial finals loss against the Calgary Colts on Saturday afternoon in Calgary.

The final score was 37 - 14, in favour of the Colts.

The hometown boys were behind by 30 - 0 by half-time, after the Colts scored most of their points in the second quarter, according to Henderson. "I think they were the better team for sure, and that really contributed to the score."

"Traveling down to Calgary for six hours (for the team) didn't help us either," explained Henderson, adding, "We left on Friday and stayed overnight ... that played a factor in how we played our game."

The Bengals tried to make a comeback in the fourth quarter, by punching two touchdowns, one of them by the team's star quarterback, Brenden McKay, and another by Taylor Joly in the same quarter to put the final score at 37 - 14.

Unfortunately, the Bengals ran out of time and opportunities to score more touchdowns after letting the Colts get the lead for the first three quarters of the game.

The hometown boys had a good season, and went almost undefeated in the Wheatland Bantam football league, said Henderson with pride. "We also won our first provincial semi-final game ... I'm really proud of all our players in the team."

"Everyone came out and practiced really hard," said Henderson, adding, "Even though we didn't go undefeated the entire year, having one loss in our record isn't that bad at the end of it."

Henderson continued by saying that kids and parents in St. Paul will take notice of what the Bengals have done this year, and he is hopeful that there will be a lot of players coming out for next Spring and Fall football camp.

"Having the ability to go deep in the playoffs show that St. Paul can compete in football against other teams"

When asked which game was the most memorable for the team, Henderson answered, "Probably our Wheatland Football Championship game against the Chargers."

"That was a game where the kids were pressured to do the best," explained Henderson, "And they did their best."

"I would say that when we won our championship game is a big, big thing for us this year."

The Bengals will celebrate and honour their players, coaches and volunteers during their annual awards night on December 2nd.

Government support for Canadian veterans a priority

BY BRIAN STORSETH, MP
 Westlock - St. Paul

It is a priority for the Government of Canada to ensure our Veterans and their families have the support they need—when they need it.

Whether it is help moving to civilian life, financial support, disability benefits, or mental health services, Veterans Affairs Canada offers programs that are as diverse as the Veterans it serves, in order to accommodate their needs.

I am proud to be part of a Government that values and appreciates the work of our Veterans. As a Member of the House of Commons Standing Committee on Veterans Affairs, I am proud to have played a role in many of the accomplishments made by our government. Some of these include:

Improving Services for Veterans

Our Conservative Government announced $52.5 million in new spending to establish a "legacy of care" centred around five new initiatives to care for injured soldiers, sea and air personnel. These initiatives contribute in a tangible and lasting way to their recovery, rehabilitation and reintegration into civilian life.

Our Conservative Government Our Conservative Government has opened Integrated Personnel Support Centres on 19 CF Bases and Wings as part of a national network dedicated to the care of ill and injured CF personnel, former personnel, their families and the families of the deceased. Among other things, these centres offer "one-stop" services for DND and Veterans Affairs Canada to help to eliminate the transitional gap for those leaving the military

Our Conservative Government has added a 24-hour, toll free help line, the VAC Assistance Service, for Veterans and their families who need access to professional counseling services.

We have created an innovative new service in local communities (Clinical Care Managers), mental health professionals who provide guidance and support to Veterans with complex mental health issues and have barriers to receiving care.

Implementing and Maintaining the New Veterans Charter

$2 billion in new funding to enhance financial support for Veterans and their families.

Veterans who have experienced catastrophic injuries that leave them unable to work will receive an additional $1,000 a month for the rest of their lives. This amount will be added on to 75 percent of their salary, as well as an allowance of $536 to $1,609 a month. Within the next five years, 500 Veterans will be eligible for this additional monthly amount.

Doing It Right!

Working Together Giving Back To Our Communities

Local Canadian Natural Resources Employees, Contractors, and Service Providers generously opened their wallets and hearts at the CNRL Donation Committee's Annual Steak & Shrimp Fundraiser on October 15th, 2010.

All came out to support local health, education and youth programs in our surrounding communities.

We would like to thank everyone who volunteered their time, attended, donated, purchased items and participated in the Fundraiser. We would also like to thank Centennial Center staff for their hard work, Hamel's Catering for providing a wonderful meal and Hahn's Welding staff for all your help with setup.

All Employee contributions are matched dollar for dollar by Canadian Natural Resources

Canadian Natural Resources would like to thank everyone who helped in making this event such a success.

This year's Annual
Steak & Shrimp Fundraiser

If you have much, give of your wealth; if you have little, give of your heart.

Check it out at Elk Point Library!

By DAPHNE SCHNURER
Librarian

The best deals in town are at your library! Membership is free for town and County of St. Paul residents, and at the same time, you can fill a bag with used books, magazines and DVDs for only $5.

Our book sale is made possible in part by the generosity of all the donors who have brought in their discarded reading and viewing materials. Their contributions are greatly appreciated, whether for our collection or to add to the sale materials.

And don't forget to check out the never-ending lineup of new materials that arrive every week, especially now that the weather is colder and we can all appreciate curling up with a good book just a little bit more.

Mark your calendars, seniors - the next seniors' tea is Wednesday, Dec. 8. See you there!

Detective Harry Monday just wants to get the facts, Ma'am, from femme fatale Scarlet and Santa's wisecracking elf after the Harrigan's Department Store is missing both their Santa Claus and the pre-Christmas payroll.

Christmas theatre hits stage

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

One dinner theatre production a year is just not enough for the Elk Point Community Choir and Friends, who are warming up for next spring's production of "Annie Get Your Gun" with a lighthearted Christmas mystery/comedy entitled "If It's Monday, It Must Be Christmas."

The pre-holiday presentation went before its first audience last Saturday evening, and will entertain three more groups in the coming two weekends at dinner theatre Christmas parties, two of them dedicated to specific businesses and two to which smaller businesses were invited to bring their workers as a group, the latter also open to all those in search of an enjoyable holiday evening out.

The 'Monday' in the title refers to Harry Monday, a private investigator who has been brought in to Harrigan's Department Store to solve the mysterious disappearance of their Santa Claus, which is a bit suspicious: the payroll, all in cash so the workers could use it for last-minute shopping, is gone too.

The boss is apoplectic, Santa's elf is hard put to explain his absence to a long line of fractious children, and the lovely lady at the courtesy counter is on the lookout for romance.

What more would it take to make a great story?

THANK YOU PANKIW

The family of Mike Pankiw would like to thank everyone for the visits, flowers, cards, and donations made in the loss of our father, grandfather and great-grandfather. Thank you to Father John Lipinski, and Caroline Yewchin for the beautiful church service. The ladies at the Elk Point Seniors Center for preparing the lunch. The pallbearers; Gido was so proud of you. To the Staff at Grace Gardens Funeral Chapel, thank you for your assistance and professionalism. Our sincere gratitude goes out to family and friends who supported us during this difficult time. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Murder charge laid after human remains found at Kehewin

By STAFF WRITERS

A 19-year-old man from Elk Point is facing a charge of second degree murder after RCMP discovered human remains near Kehewin, which at this time RCMP believe to be the remains of a missing woman from Bonnyville.

Mary Ella Jane Corbiere, 76, was last seen on or about Oct. 2, according to a Bonnyville RCMP press release. On Oct. 11, Bonnyville RCMP began a missing person investigation after receiving a call from concerned family members. A combined investigation involving Bonnyville RCMP, St. Paul RCMP Major Crimes, St. Paul Identification Services and Edmonton RCMP Major Crimes Unit resulted in the murder charge pressed against Jesse Colton Leppanen.

Leppanen appeared in Bonnyville Provincial Court on Nov. 16, at which time the judge advised him to get a lawyer. His next court appearance is Dec. 7, where he will appear via CCTV video conference.

An autopsy on the discovered human remains took place in the Edmonton Medical Examiner's Office on Nov. 17. Doris Stapleton, a media relations officer with RCMP K Division, said that following the autopsy, investigators are "cautiously confident" the remains are those of Corbiere, but further DNA testing is required to be 100 per cent certain of those results. The cause of death is still unknown, she said.

Government support for veterans

Access to the permanent monthly allowance for seriously injured Veterans will be expanded. More than 3,500 Veterans are expected to be eligible for this allowance within the next five years.

The proposed changes will increase the minimum monthly income for those Veterans by changing the formula for the earnings loss benefit to ensure that no eligible Veteran will receive less than $40,000 per year. Approximately 2,320 Veterans will benefit from this change.

Successfully implemented the New Veterans Charter, which represents the most sweeping changes to the way we care for our Veterans in 60 years. In addition to maintaining full financial supports for our modern day Veterans, the NVC breaks new ground by also focusing on the wellness of our Veterans and their families.

Supporting Our Traditional Veterans

Our Conservative Government has reversed the Liberal cuts to Allied Veterans benefits. We also extended those vital benefits to Allied Vets from the Korean War. These changes have helped about 4,600 Vets and family members.

We have increased funding available through the Veterans Independence Program. We have extended this essential suite of services to thousands of Veterans widows. There are now more than 35,000 survivor clients who are receiving VIP benefits.

Dignity and Respect for Veterans

Our Conservative Government introduced the Veterans' Bill of Rights. This strengthens the Government's ability to respond quickly and fairly to the concerns of Canadian Veterans.

We created the position of Veterans' Ombudsman, and appointed Colonel Pat Stogran as the first Ombudsman. He has done an excellent job advocating on behalf of Veterans, and his successor will be named in the coming weeks.

We've provided approximately $57.2 million of ex-gratia payments to fulfill our pledge to address the decades-old issue of Agent Orange tests at CFB Gagetown.

Improving the Mental Health of Veterans

The Veterans Affairs network of Operational Stress Injury (OSI) Clinics now consists of 10 specialized clinics, (the Department of National Defence (DND) operates another five clinics.) of which 9 are out-patient clinics located in Fredericton, Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa, London, Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver. The tenth is the ground-breaking Residential Treatment Clinic for Operational Stress Injuries (OSIs) at Ste. Anne's Hospital (in Montreal) that provides intensive care to those Veterans suffering from the most severe cases of Operational Stress Injuries (OSIs).

The newest clinics are located in Fredericton, Montreal, Ottawa, Edmonton and Vancouver. In addition, the Operational Stress Injury (OSI) Clinics located in Quebec City, Winnipeg and Calgary have recently undergone expansions.

We continue to maintain a strong partnership with the Department of National Defence (DND) through the joint VAC-DND Operational Stress Injury Social Support (OSISS) Program. This national peer support network provides support to Veterans, still serving CF members and their families who are affected by Operational Stress Injuries, as well as support to bereaved family members who suffer a loss due to military service. There are 28 peer support coordinators whose role is to assist former and still serving military members and 20 family peer support coordinators (8 of whom are VAC employees) who assist the family members of those who have an operational stress injury. Many OSISS staff are co-located in VAC District Offices and/or VAC OSI Clinics.

Promoting Remembrance

We've ended uncertainty about the future of the Juno Beach Centre in France by committing $5 million over 10 years toward maintaining the memorial and education centre in Courseulles-sur-Mer.

We've provided $450,000 over three years to support the Dominion Institute's Memory Project, which brings our Veterans in to schools to speak to students and community groups. More than 1 million students have had the chance to listen to our Veterans' stories through the Memory Project.

We've instituted a ceremonial presence and interpretive guides (along with other new security measures) to protect security and the integrity of the National War Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

We've stepped in to assume ownership of the Canada Memorial in Green Park, London. We approved spending up to $250,000 to restore it as a fitting tribute to our soldiers in the First and Second World Wars, and we are spending an additional $100,000 a year on its annual maintenance.

We have brought remembrance to Canadians in new and innovative ways through partnerships with community and national organizations, and by using social media such as Facebook and YouTube.

This Veterans' Week, how did you remember? However you chose to remember, be sure to tell a friend, a family member or a colleague.

Together we must keep the memories of our Canadian Veterans alive.

Addictions Awareness Week was Nov.14-20

BY ALBERTA HEALTH SERVICES

National Addictions Awareness Week took place Nov. 14 to 20 and aimed to raise awareness about the harm associated with substance abuse and gambling. Although the week aims to spread messages of prevention, it is also about providing hope to those who are considering change, and to those celebrating the joy of living addiction-free.

This year's theme for National Addictions Awareness Week is 'Change is possible.' Making the kind of change it takes to recover from substance abuse or gambling problems is a journey that is filled with many steps. For those who have succeeded in making a change, the journey continues to unfold day-by-day.

"Each day, we as counselors are encouraged by the changes we see our clients making, whether it is seeking service for the first time or hearing an update from a client in recovery," says Jodi Schollaardt, an addictions counselor with Alberta Health Services (AHS) in Grande Prairie. "We know change is possible and we continue to work to help clients find success in their lives."

To recognize National Addictions Awareness Week, AHS Addiction and Mental Health has organized events and promotions across northern Alberta. In several communities, AHS has teamed up with local support groups, schools and businesses to host awareness activities.

Alberta Health Services is the provincial health authority responsible for planning and delivering health supports and services for more than 3.7 million adults and children living in Alberta. Its mission is to provide a patient-focused, quality health system that is accessible and sustainable for all Albertans.

Curling club to meet Dec.1

All those who have been waiting for the curling season to arrive only have a little while longer to wait.

Elk Point Curling Club will hold their annual meeting and registration on Wednesday, Dec. 1 at the curling club, beginning at 7 p.m., and they're hoping to encourage more curlers to join the fun.

Mark your calendars and dust off your brooms - the season is here!
